NOTE: Building a new or overhauled website requires your input and assistance. Plan some time to spend with Jenny to discuss your ideas and preferences so she can do a great job for you.

NOTE: Spend some time looking at other websites in the marine industry and copy their links for Jenny. It will help her visualize what you like and want.

Professional Consulting Services ($125/hr)

MarineSurveyor.com is made up of:
Geoff Grainger, AMS, CMI (Proprietor)
Jenny Bublitz (Web designer, support, and SEO)
Scott Watry (Customer service and sales)

We offer support and consulting services to the marine surveyor community, often at NO COST, client or not. If we can answer a quick question or prevent you from getting scammed, we want to do that for you. We hope you will consider giving us your business someday, in return.

Getting into deeper subjects like domain-based email support, SEO (search engine optimization), or other technical topics, we are available at $125/hr to help you. If you are not satisfied with our assistance, we will charge you nothing.

Most surveyors want a set it and forget it solution that they can update prices or credentials every so often, or maybe add some pictures. Some want to be more aggressive in their marketing.

We want to help the surveyor community by giving them a reliable team of people to address their needs and concerns. When you call, you will probably get my voicemail. Leave me a message and I will return your call. No waiting on hold, no support screening with multiple transfers, and articulate and knowledgeable consult from me or my team, depending on your needs.

I get asked about 24/7 support. We have all called that number. Sit on hold listening to bad music, talk to someone who you can barely understand, and rarely can help. Get transferred to multiple people all to find out that they are “working on the problem” while you have lost an hour or more of your time.

We all use reliable servers, so it is about what we offer beyond just hosting. I can't be the cheapest because I have skilled solid people backing my offerings. What I am offering is a face to meet, a hand to shake, and even a throat to choke. Beyond that, add-ons that no one else can offer (see above). I'll be rotating through conferences as I am able and you can find me there. I'm a SAMS surveyor since 2010 so I know much of the business and can help you accordingly. I want to get and keep your business so you don't have to worry about your web presence and you can just go out and make money. We are a small community and word gets around so we have to do our best. And I want to. Tell me what I can do for you.
